

Preschool Programing at Bedford Public Library

Talking, singing, reading, writing and playing are simple ways to help your child learn the skills they need to be ready to read. Your Library is a wonderful place to help children learn. We provide many opportunities for children to develop early literacy skills. Come visit our early literacy play area where we have educational toys and opportunities for hands-on learning. Movies, books, and games for young children encourage them to see learning as fun!

We visit the local preschools and Head Start with a new storytime each month. In each session we read, sing, talk, write and play together. Our engaging stories come to life with the help of puppets, active songs and crafts. Over 200 children each month are visited at their preschools by our staff.

Contact us to bring your preschool classroom to the Library for a field trip. Your group can explore the Library and the different materials that we have to offer. We are happy to set up storytimes or activities specifically for your group. We are excited to work with you to build excitement for learning.
