JUSTICE

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Hello Brothers,

As this issue of the DU Quarterly arrives in your mailbox, Delta Upsilon will have just celebrated its 185th birthday—a truly remarkable milestone! As we honor the Fraternity, our chapters and alma maters this Homecoming season, I'm thankful that Founders Day serves as an annual reminder of how Delta Upsilon has continued to shape the lives of men for nearly two centuries.

A bit of a history buff, I've always been in awe of how institutions remain steadfast through generations of change. Each year, as Nov. 4 approaches, I find myself contemplating how DU has been able to sustain itself for so long. How is it that something created in 1834 continues to have relevance and usefulness today? I think about how society, education and technology have progressed, as well as the parts of these institutions that have either disappeared or become obsolete along the way. Just what is it about DU that enables us to stand the test of time and continue to attract the best and the brightest to seek and join our ranks?

As esoteric as it sounds, I firmly believe it's our Four Founding Principles that set us apart. In 1834, in 1934, and even today, The Promotion of Friendship, The Development of Character, The Diffusion of Liberal Culture and The Advancement of Justice remain timeless. There is nothing outdated about what it means to be a DU!

The Promotion of Friendship and The Development of Character have obvious applications in an undergraduate's life. Human beings are social creatures, and we naturally look to connect with others for companionship and camaraderie. I also believe there's an instinct within each of us to become the best version of ourselves. We do this through self-exploration and character development. I count myself lucky that Delta Upsilon was there to be a part of mine.

Additionally, The Diffusion of Liberal Culture and The Advancement of Justice ring truly unique. These two Principles have always empowered us to be a force for change within our communities and the world. Remember, our Founders lived two centuries ago. How the world looked to them is very different than it looks to us now. But as society has evolved, so have our ideas about culture and justice. No matter the era or challenge of the time, an appreciation for what each member brings to the table, and what it takes to support each other, will always be necessary for growth and prosperity.

The continued relevancy and application of our Principles is also how Delta Upsilon remains a force on college campuses today. Later in the magazine (on page 40), you will read about how our annual Membership Outcomes Assessment is providing statistical data that shows how the four-year DU membership experience is Building Better Men. In short, our Four Founding Principles are helping DU men better understand themselves, think critically and relate to others. How have our Principles continued to manifest themselves in your life?

As the 30th autumn of my membership comes to pass, I find myself thankful. I feel fortunate to have joined an organization whose Founders were men of such great thought, they unknowingly created a vision that would withstand 185 years of challenge, conflict and change. They established a set of values that would carry our Fraternity through war and peace, depression and prosperity—never losing sight of the power of each and every member to make a contribution. Our brotherhood helped them do that, and it is my hope our Four Founding Principles will continue to guide us for the next 185 years.

Fraternally,

FROM THE DESK OF YOUR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dear Brothers,

In 2015, Delta Upsilon embarked on the most ambitious and comprehensive research project of any fraternity to date. We wanted to measure the deep impact of DU membership in a number of critical areas, so we partnered with Dyad Strategies, LCC and launched our first assessment in late February 2016.

Our goal:

- Measure student behaviors, values and attitudes.
- Gauge member growth in a range of areas, including problem-solving, social justice, ethical decision making and conscientiousness during their DU experience.
- Create an understanding of how members experience brotherhood at the chapter level.
- Map individual and chapter growth.

Over the past four years, we have analyzed the data to look for trends that informs our approach in allocating resources to best maximize impact on the undergraduate member. Each year's data set has allowed us to pinpoint exactly where DU delivers added value over the typical college experience and to continually improve our programs and services.

Let me share some examples of how our assessment has influenced the Fraternity:

- Each year, chapters are provided a report highlighting the areas where it scored well and opportunities for improvement. Chapter officers use this report to build their plans for the year. In fact, one Chapter President used his chapter's report as a part of his senior portfolio for his academic major. He designed and implemented a set of initiatives focused on improving the areas in which the chapter scored lowest and was able to evaluate his success on the next year's assessment.
- Our chapter development team tailors our chapter servicing strategies based on the unique needs and priorities of a chapter as indicated in the assessment. We identify a chapter's area of greatest need, determine the best staff member to work with the chapter, and use a holistic approach to address the needs.
- Our educational programming team makes adjustments to curriculum to ensure all educational activities are aligned with desired organizational outcomes and assessed for effectiveness.

At the outset of this project, we looked forward to the day we'd have four years of data and be able to track a cohort of students through their DU experience. With four years of implementation, we now have Cohort 1 and a picture of how the DU experience impacts our young men from the day they join through graduation. Based on the initial analysis of Cohort 1, we have identified some specific next steps.

1. Pilot various structural changes at the chapter level to alleviate declines in affinity and engagement between sophomore and junior year. While brotherhood and affinity decline across time, the sharpest decline happens between sophomore and junior year. This is typically when men move out of the house or finish their term on the Executive Board. We will look to pilot several programs aimed at keeping juniors more engaged.
2. Expand access to DUEL. The DU Emerging Leaders Experience has shown to be the Fraternity's most impactful educational program. The members who participate in this program have greater development in accountability and commitment than their peers. It will be a priority to provide access to this program.
3. Look for ways to reinforce Belonging and Informal Accountability in the Associate Member Education Program and Building Better Men Retreats. The Associate Member Education Program has been incredibly successful. It is responsible for significant decreases in Solidarity Brotherhood and Loyalty/Commitment Hazing Motivation over the last four years. Similarly, Building Better Men Retreats have shown promise in decreasing hazing culture within a chapter and improving operations. Belonging and Accountability are two of the most important areas of chapter culture, and we will look to adjust these programs to produce meaningful increases.

Thanks to our assessment efforts, we know more today than we ever have about the DU undergraduate experience. In a time when the fraternity experience is under great scrutiny, we must be able to prove our worth. Our data indisputably articulates the benefits of Delta Upsilon membership. We look forward to continuing to assess the experience and make data driven decisions toward Building Better Men.

EXPANSION NEWS

CURRENT EXPANSIONS

Delta Upsilon is back at the University of Colorado Boulder! Fraternity staff members have been on campus since late August 2019 to promote Delta Upsilon and recruit Founding Fathers into the group. In addition to informal recruitment efforts, Delta Upsilon took part in the university affiliated IFC recruitment, and as of Oct. 10, the Colorado Colony has 15 members and six advisors, with recruitment efforts still ongoing. This marks DU's first time back on campus since 1997. Associate members have already been busy with brotherhood events, including hiking and dinners together.

If you know unaffiliated men at CU Boulder and would like to recommend them for membership, please contact colorado@deltatau.org. If you are interested in serving as an advisor for the colony, contact Expansion & Development Director Hayden Rahn, Oregon '16, at rahn@deltatau.org.

FUTURE EXPANSIONS

The Fraternity is proud to announce it has been selected to expand at The University of Tennessee, Knoxville during the 2021-2022 academic year, as well as The University of Tampa in 2022-2023. This will mark the return of DU's Tennessee Chapter, which has been closed since 1996, and the first time it has had a presence at Tampa.

Delta Upsilon is also currently in conversations with the following institutions regarding possible expansions: University of Delaware, University of Minnesota, University of Nevada-Reno and University of North Carolina-Wilmington. If you are interested in learning more about these efforts or volunteer opportunities with Tennessee and Tampa, contact Expansion & Development Director Hayden Rahn, Oregon '16, at rahn@deltatau.org. Alumni support is a critical component of many campus' expansion decisions, so please let us know if you would be interested in supporting groups on these campuses.

While Delta Upsilon has not yet begun conversations or set timelines to return to the following campuses, we would like to note that within the terms of the chapters' closures, there are agreements to return to University of Kansas, North Carolina State University, University of Washington and Washington State University whenever the time is mutually beneficial for DU and the university. The Fraternity will provide updates on each campus once conversations begin.

LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE

Since 1969, Indianapolis, Indiana has been home to the Delta Upsilon International Fraternity Headquarters. This summer, it also played host to DU's 2019 Leadership Institute.

The Leadership Institute is Delta Upsilon's biggest event of the year. Nearly 300 undergraduate and alumni brothers converged on downtown Indianapolis July 25-28, 2019, for a weekend of fellowship, learning and celebration. Held at the Hyatt Regency hotel, LI featured 28 different educational programs, Fraternity and Foundation Board and committee meetings, awards presentations, and donor events. LI is also the home to DU's bicameral legislative sessions: the Undergraduate Convention and Assembly of Trustees.

"The Leadership Institute is our chance to celebrate our brotherhood and the friendships and opportunities Delta Upsilon brings us," International Fraternity President Tom Durein, Oregon State '92, said during the Welcome Dinner. "The next three days are the best three days in Delta Upsilon each year."

LI 2019 officially kicked off Thursday, July 25 as attendees made their way to Indianapolis. Those arriving early had the opportunity to participate in a Regional GSI service event with the American Red Cross to install smoke detectors in an at-risk Indianapolis neighborhood. Brothers also had the chance to visit IHQ that afternoon for a tour. The Welcome Dinner Thursday evening saw DU present its first awards of the weekend, recap the successes of 2018-2019, as well as conduct the Initiation Ceremony, with The Charge address given by Joshua Katz, Central Florida '97.

Friday's schedule featured educational programs throughout the day for both undergraduates and alumni. Topics ranged from DU's Membership Outcomes Assessment, chapter reporting, DU history and Ritual, substance-free housing, sexual assault prevention, and more. That evening, undergraduate brothers had the chance to visit the NCAA Hall of Champions, an interactive sports museum located within the NCAA's headquarters. The DU Educational Foundation also hosted a Wine Tasting fundraiser and donor reception at the Indiana Repertory Theatre.

More educational programs were held Saturday, with the highlight of the day being the Grand Banquet. Here, DU recognized its Sweepstakes Finalists, named its Distinguished Undergraduate and set the tone for the year ahead.

"For more than 170 years, chapters have been gathering together annually to conduct the business of the entire Fraternity together," said Craig Sowell, Houston '92, during Friday's Awards Luncheon. "By now, I hope many of you first timers have discovered just how important and meaningful LI is."

Delta Upsilon's Distinguished Undergraduate Award is the highest honor the Fraternity bestows upon an undergraduate and is designed to recognize brothers for their efforts to improve their chapter, campus and community throughout their entire collegiate career.

The 2019 recipient of the Distinguished Undergraduate Award was a leader on campus, in the classroom and within Delta Upsilon. Arjun Singh, Indiana '19, graduated in May 2019 from Indiana University's Kelley School of Business with an impressive 3.9 grade point average. Within the school, he served as a consultant with 180 Degrees Consulting to help local nonprofits, as a member and mentor for the Investment Banking Workshop, as well as president of the Corporate Strategy Club. Today, Arjun works for Citi Investment Banking in New York City.

Within Delta Upsilon, Arjun helped the Indiana Chapter toward a path to success. Following the chapter's reorganization, he served as Vice President of External Relations and helped the chapter become a leader on campus. He was a regular volunteer with the chapter's Home Fire Safety Campaign with the American Red Cross, attended the Global Service Initiative, and was quick to lend a hand whenever needed.

"As I'm now starting a career in the workforce, I've realized that the skills I learned in DU were more important than I could ever comprehend at the time," Arjun said. "This award is a testament to the strength of the Indiana Chapter's brotherhood, alumni support and resilience as a chapter in the face of adversity. My accomplishments would not have been possible if not for the support of the brotherhood."

PRESIDENT'S AWARD: CHAPTER PRESIDENT OF THE YEAR

NIKKOH MENDOZA, BRADLEY '20

Chapter Presidents play a vital role in Delta Upsilon's success. A successful President must keep a good pulse on every aspect of the chapter yet motivate and empower others to lead in their own areas. For this reason, DU recognizes its most outstanding President each year with the President's Award: Chapter President of the Year.

Nikkoh Mendoza, Bradley '20, helped make a good chapter even better during his time as President. He focused on strengthening relationships and enhancing chapter operations. Working closely with his Executive Board and advisors, he worked to improve the chapter's budget, lower dues, hire an in-house chef, install a security system, renovate the chapter room, and improve the chapter GPA.

As President, Nikkoh learned the importance motivation, belonging and participation play within a chapter. He also learned not to be afraid to take action.

"Know that change is never going to happen overnight," he said. "Every tradition and event that we all take part in stemmed from one idea at some point. If there is a change or endeavor that you feel needs to happen, know that it starts with you. It may be five years from now or within the next year, but know that if no initiative is taken, the idea will remain just as an idea."

SLOAN-KETTERING AWARD OF MERIT IN BUSINESS

CHAD LEAT, KANSAS '78

Delta Upsilon's Awards of Merit are presented to esteemed members and friends of the Fraternity who have exhibited a devotion to Delta Upsilon, as well as excellence or notoriety within their profession. The awards get their name from the Fraternity's historical tie to our Founders' description: "the only superiority that we acknowledge is the superiority of merit." Awards are then named for outstanding DU alumni in that particular field.

During the 2019 Leadership Institute, Brother Chad Leat, Kansas '78, was honored with the Sloan-Kettering Award of Merit in Business. This award is named after Alfred P. Sloan, Technology 1895, and Charles Kettering, Ohio State 1904, who were philanthropists and long-time executives with General Motors.

Chad is a retired Vice Chairman of Global Banking at Citigroup and has nearly 30 years of markets and banking experience on Wall Street. An acknowledged leader and innovator in corporate credit and M&A finance, he has completed some of the largest acquisition financings in history. Over the years, he has built and led numerous successful and profitable businesses at Citigroup, JPMorgan Chase and their predecessor companies.

Currently, Chad serves as Chairman of the Board of Directors for both J.Crew and MidCap Financial, PLC. J.Crew is an American specialty retailer with revenues in excess of $2 billion and includes the rapidly growing Madewell brand for women. MidCap Financial is a middle market direct commercial lending business affiliated with Apollo Global Management with nearly $20 billion of assets under management. In addition to this work, Chad sits on the Board of Directors of Norwegian Cruise Lines, where he serves as Chairman of the Audit Committee and a member of the Compensation Committee; is on the Supervisory Board of Hamburg Commercial Bank, headquartered in Hamburg, Germany, where he also serves as Chairman of the Risk Committee; and serves on the Board of Directors of TPG Pace Holdings Corp. (TPGH-UN) where he serves as Chairman of the Audit Committee.

On the civic and philanthropic front, Chad is a member of the Economic Club of New York and has served on the board of several charitable organizations. He is currently a Trustee of the Parrish Museum of Art.

Chad is a 1978 graduate of the University of Kansas, where he received his Bachelor of Science degree. He finished the Directors' Consortium at Stanford Graduate School of Business in Palo Alto, California in spring 2019. He was named a Distinguished Kansan in 2018 and is an avid equestrian who splits his time between Paris, France; Bridgehampton, New York; and New York City.

Chad was presented with his Award of Merit during the Leadership Institute's Awards Luncheon on Friday, July 26, 2019. During his acceptance speech, he spoke not of his career, but of the impact Delta Upsilon brotherhood has had on his life. The friendship and generosity of a DU brother and his family helped Chad finance his education after his father passed away in Chad's second year of college.

"It was that relationship, that friendship, that brotherhood, that kept me going for something that had been my life's dream—a college education," Chad said. "Being part of the DU Fraternity, a part of the DU community, made sure that I had someone with a helping hand when I needed it."

Following the Awards Luncheon, Chad hosted a "fireside chat" with undergraduates interested in learning more about his career and his advice for a successful future. A recording of Chad's acceptance speech can be found at www.deltatau.org/awards-of-merit.

STEVE ROWLEY RETIRES AFTER 22 YEARS AT HELM OF DU EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION

In 1992, a simple donor visit changed the trajectory of the Delta Upsilon Educational Foundation. In this visit, then Foundation Development Director Richard Holland, Syracuse '83, met with alumnus Stephen Rowley, Ohio '65, to talk about Delta Upsilon and ask for Steve's support. Little did either man know at the time, that ask would turn into nearly three decades of financial and volunteer support for the DUEF. At the 2019 Leadership Institute in Indianapolis, Brother Rowley retired after 26 years of service on the DU Educational Foundation Board of Trustees, with the last 22 years as Chairman of the Board.

"I realize now that all we needed to do to deepen Steve's involvement in DU was to simply ask him to help," Rick said.

Just a year after that initial fundraising ask, Steve joined the Board of Trustees in 1993. He was quickly appointed Treasurer of the Board, then became the ninth Chairman in the history of the DUEF in 1997. Over the next 22 years, the DUEF would grow in size and scope, increasing its fundraising totals and expanding its endowment funds, which now includes more than 40 different funds for educational programs and tuition scholarships.

For Foundation Board and staff members, Steve served as a constant source of inspiration and guidance. He was known for his kindness, warmth and integrity. In addition to his leadership, he provided coaching to staff on an almost weekly basis on how to strategically and operationally advance the mission of the Foundation. As a business executive, Steve drew on his experiences in strategic planning, direct marketing, sales, general management and business organization to guide and coach. Now retired, Steve has served professionally as the President and CEO of Paragon Holdings, Inc., as well as CEO of Day Timers, Inc.

Recognizing that the work of the Educational Foundation and International Fraternity go hand in hand, during his tenure, Steve worked to strengthen relationships between the two entities, which in the past, had not always worked closely together. Steve was a frequent facilitator at DU educational programs, would lead joint strategic planning sessions for both the Fraternity and Foundation Boards, and was integral in overhauling the structure of the staff in 2014 to put the Fraternity and Foundation under one Executive Director.

"Of all the people that I can think of that are related to the DUEF, Steve has probably had the greatest impact on us," said Foundation Vice-Chairman Craig Franz, Ph.D., Bucknell '75. "He is an executive coach who brings all of his experience to the table. He is someone who has really enabled us to move forward as an organization."

During the 2019 Leadership Institute's Grand Banquet, Delta Upsilon took time to specially recognize Steve for his service, presenting him with a brief tribute video, a DU charm for his wife Sharon, and a gift basket including notes from more than 20 individuals. It was also announced that more than $10,000 in gifts to the Foundation were made in recognition Steve's work and that the Foundation for Fraternal Excellence would be honoring Steve as the 2019 recipient of its Outstanding Volunteer Award. FFE, formally known as the NIC Foundation, is an organization that exists to help fraternities and sororities grow their foundations.

Always one to put student development first, it was fitting that in his remarks to the LI crowd, Steve gave a final thank-you to Delta Upsilon's undergraduates.

"And thanks to all of you and those who have come before you because you are the reason that DU volunteers do what we do," Steve said. "We are trying pay back—and pay forward—for the Principles and values that we learned and we live, and for the leadership skills we developed as undergraduates in Delta Upsilon."

THE DU MAN

Remembering Past International Fraternity President Terry Bullock, Kansas State '61

By E. Lee Musil, Kansas State '71, and Ashley Martin Schowengerdt, Director of Communications

Terry L. Bullock, Kansas State '61, made a profound impact on Delta Upsilon—far beyond the Kansas State Chapter from where he originated. A visionary and a mentor, Brother Bullock set the Fraternity and scores of individuals on a path toward respect and justice rooted in the values and Principles they hold dear.

Brother Bullock was born Sept. 29, 1939, in Herington, Kansas, and died of natural causes on Aug. 2, 2019, at age 79. A Celebration of Life was held Aug. 16 at Grace Episcopal Cathedral in Topeka, Kansas, with his final place of rest at the Wilsey, Kansas cemetery. He is survived by his daughter Susan, son John and two grandchildren.

As an undergraduate at Kansas State University, Brother Bullock had made a clear decision not to join a fraternity for all the usual “Animal House” reasons. When he accepted an invitation to meet a distant relative at the Delta Upsilon house, however, the rest was history. Soon, Terry frequently found himself at the chapter house, so much that one day, the Chapter President told Terry that if he was going to have Sunday dinner with them every week, he should pay dues. Terry said, “That sounds right, but I don’t like fraternities.” The President said, “Neither do we; welcome home.” Terry himself would eventually serve as Chapter President during his senior year.

Terry graduated from Kansas State University in 1961, then went on to law school at the University of Kansas where he served as editor of the Kansas Law Review and graduated with honors in 1964.

As a young alumnus, Terry returned to DU and began volunteering with the Kansas State Chapter’s Alumni Board, serving as its first President and as a chapter advisor. During this time, his leadership led to the redesign of the chapter’s new member education program using an honor code of non-harassment. In 1967, along with Kansas State Chapter President Dave Parker, Kansas State '67, Terry co-authored a 50-page document titled “The Kansas Report” that outlined the concept of framing member education around the Principles and non-harassment. As a result, the Kansas State Chapter won its first Sweepstakes Trophy that year.

Terry contended that if the goal of a college education is to produce a well-rounded graduate who is competent in his chosen career, then the goal of Delta Upsilon is similar: to take talented men, guide them by the Four Founding Principles, and develop them to their fullest potential. "Delta Upsilon produces only one product and has only one service to sell. That product is men—earnest, principled and mature men of excellence." (Kansas Report, 1967, p. R-3.)

This line of thought led Brother Bullock to join the International Fraternity's Board of Directors in 1970. Over his ensuing 18 years of Board service, the last five in which he served as International Fraternity President, Terry would become known for his passionate defense of the Delta Upsilon experience and Four Founding Principles. He frequently gave emboldened speeches at DU events and was a sought after Charge Address speaker for chapters across North America.

Notably, Brother Bullock would give speeches about "The DU Man," and how chapters must use the Four Founding Principles to create successful, well-rounded men. He encouraged chapters to initiate cultural and diversity programs so that the undergraduate members would become more capable when dealing with the myriad of situations they would encounter in the world's workforce. He reminded them that honest, open discourse, when done in a mature and respectful manner is healthy, encourages growth and clarifies one's thinking. Brother Bullock posited that "The DU Man" would be a cultured, Renaissance Man who promoted integrity, fairness, dependability and belonging.

In 1987, the Fraternity printed copies of "The DU Man: A Blueprint for Success," which was written by Bullock and served as a guide for chapters to create a meaningful membership experience.

Toward the end of his term as International Fraternity President,

Terry and the Board of Directors also commissioned a Member Manual Committee to carefully consider the needs of young men entering into Delta Upsilon and revise what was then known as Our Record, The Manual of Delta Upsilon. Led by Bullock, this committee wrote and published the first edition of The Cornerstone in 1989.

"Terry was a leader organizationally and philosophically by keeping us true to the Founding Principles," said Craig Franz, Ph.D., Bucknell '75, who served on the Board of Directors and Member Manual Committee with Terry. "He had such an impact on what we do as Delta Upsilon. He had a golden tongue that would spin tales in a way that would not only inspire people but cause them to march forward with those ideas."

Brother Bullock was a powerful mentor to thousands, not only to many Delta Upsilon brothers, but also to scores of those in the courtroom. After more than a decade as an attorney, Terry became a District Judge in the State of Kansas in 1976, a position he held for more than 30 years. During this time, he also served for decades as an adjunct ethics professor at both Washburn University School of Law and University of Kansas School of Law, the only two law programs in the state. For more than three decades, every law school graduate in the state of Kansas had to have taken a course from Judge Bullock. As with Delta Upsilon, Terry made it his goal to set his students on a path toward justice.

"All I ever wanted to do was to encourage people to make good choices," Brother Bullock said.

Based on the indelible footprint the Honorable Judge and Brother Terry Bullock made within DU and the Kansas legal system, he was able to do just that.

JUDGE TERRY BULLOCK

In addition to his impact on Delta Upsilon, as a trial judge in Kansas for more than 30 years, Terry Bullock left an indelible mark on the state and its residents. Here are some of his career highlights.

- Graduated with honors from the University of Kansas School of Law in 1964 and served as editor of the Kansas Law Review.
- Began his law career at Cosgrove, Webb and Oman in Topeka, Kansas.
- Was appointed District Judge in 1976, a position he kept for more than 30 years.
- Served five years as Chief Judge. In this role, he was instrumental in creating the nation's first paperless system for electronic case processing.
- Was best known for his constitutional decisions concerning the funding of Kansas' educational system.
- Formed Judge Terry Bullock Mediation Services after retiring from the bench where he worked as a mediator and consultant.
- Taught more than 10,000 students over three decades as the Washburn University and University of Kansas Schools of Law.
- Received lifetime achievement awards from both the Topeka and Kansas Bar Associations.

The Louisville Chapter has been hard at work recruiting new men into the chapter. This past spring and fall, alumni and Delta Upsilon staff have worked to rebuild the chapter. As of Sept. 19, the chapter stood at 19 associate members and is looking for continued recruitment success.

The Leadership Institute was a success for Maryland Chapter members. Aaron Emalfarb, Maryland '20, was elected as an Undergraduate Director on the International Fraternity's Board of Directors and received a McQuaid Scholarship. Matthew Talley, Maryland '21, was elected Chairman of the Undergraduate Advisory Board, and Matthew Andreoli, Maryland '21, received an Oak Circle scholarship. On Sept. 1, the chapter hosted a memorial to honor Brother Udayaditya Konwar, Maryland '21, who passed away this summer.

Fall recruitment was a success with 43 men signing bid cards during formal recruitment and 18 members recruited during summer events. At the start of the semester, the chapter created a "Live Like Tim" board to honor Timothy Piazza, a Beta Theta Pi from Penn State who died from hazing a few years ago. The board includes photos of Tim and his family, as well as photos of colony members and their families to serve as a reminder to love and protect one another. Tim's family spoke at DU's Leadership Institute this summer and on the Missouri campus this fall.

The North Dakota Chapter has created a Wellness Chair as its newest chairman position. This individual will provide resources on mental, physical and social wellbeing, as well as lead fireside chats with members. At the beginning of the year, brothers also volunteered with a back-to-school carnival at Lewis & Clark Elementary in Grand Forks, grilling and serving food for the more than 150 people who attended.

The North Florida Chapter has rededicated itself to DU's Four Founding Principles and commitment to non-secrecy. The new Executive Board has been leading the chapter to "reinforce, rebuild and reignite the fire that is Delta Upsilon." Recruitment played an important role in this rebuilding of the chapter, and the group brought in 10 new associate members during fall recruitment.

ALUMNI NEWS

ALBERTA

Alberta alumni were excited to work with the undergraduate chapter in its fall recruitment efforts, as well as to plan the annual Rush Stag alumni dinner, which was held at the end of September the University's Faculty Club venue. In the event's 29th year, Jon Sharun, Alberta '03, served as the Senator J. Harper Prowse keynote speaker for the evening. Jon reflected on his life and career and how DU has made an impact on him. In addition to Jon's address, the alumni presented the undergraduate chapter with scholarship awards for academics and leadership.

MICHIGAN TECH

Save the date! During Labor Day weekend 2020 (Sept. 4-7) the Michigan Tech Chapter will celebrate its 40th Anniversary in Houghton, Michigan. Brothers from the chapter's founding until present will reunite for camping, Copper Country Cruising, dinner and many other activities. In the year leading up to the event, the alumni chapter will post pictures from the chapter's 40 years on social media and via email. Please contact Brother Adam Mittee, Michigan Tech '03, aamittee@mtu.edu or at (906) 281-1834 with any questions about details of the weekend or to be added to any communications.

A MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Since 1834, more than 135,000 men have been initiated into our great Fraternity. Each of us joined for our own reasons, but one thing is certain. We were searching for an experience that was going to be relevant—worthy of our time, energy and investment.

Relevancy is also important to the 1,471 donors who made a gift to the Delta Upsilon Educational Foundation this past year. With their help, the DUEF was able to offer tuition scholarships, program scholarships and housing grants, as well as help the Fraternity fund DU's award-winning educational programs. These brothers and friends of DU gave because they know the Delta Upsilon experience is relevant to today's college man. Regardless of the nonprofit you give to, no one wants to make an investment in an organization that is not making an impact.

Despite the challenges facing fraternities and sororities, Delta Upsilon is perhaps more relevant now than ever before. After four years of research and analysis with our member assessment partners at Dyad Strategies, it is clear that the DU experience of today—both at the chapter level and through our educational programming—is helping undergraduates develop healthy attitudes toward social culture, brotherhood and personal accountability.

The DU Educational Foundation is committed to putting the generous gifts of our donors to work each year through intentional programming and resources rooted in Delta Upsilon's Four Founding Principles of Friendship, Character, Culture and Justice. We wholeheartedly believe these Principles prepare our young men to lead their chapters, their campuses and our global society.

There are many ways to support Delta Upsilon brothers through the DUEF. This includes gifts made to support specific educational programs (like the Leadership Institute, Global Service Initiative, Regional Leadership Academy and Emerging Leaders Experience). Chapter Legacy Plans and Chapter Educational/Housing Accounts provide targeted support at the chapter level through tuition scholarships, educational programming and/or funding for housing projects. A strong general fund, which we call the Annual Loyalty Fund, is also critical to our success as it allows the DUEF to direct funds to areas that need the most support. Thanks to the generosity of our donors, last year, the Annual Loyalty Fund reached its highest ever fundraising total with $427,202.

As a former DU Leadership Consultant, member of the Fraternity's Board of Directors, a part of the DUEF's Board of Trustees since 2002 and now Chairman of the DUEF, I have seen Delta Upsilon grow and evolve in so many ways, further strengthening the relevancy of the DU experience. None of this success could have been achieved without the support of DU's volunteers and donors. Because of you, Delta Upsilon remains relevant.

I sincerely thank each person and entity that made a gift to the DU Educational Foundation last year. I also want to thank Steve Rowley, Ohio '65, who recently retired as Chairman of the DUEF after 22 years, as well as newly retired Trustees David Cole, Wilmington '72, and Robert Dahlsgaard, Bradley '63, for their thoughtful leadership. Throughout the next several pages, you will find the names of those who have made it a priority to financially support the DU experience. I invite others to join us. Large or small, every gift matters. Together, we will continue to build better men and make Delta Upsilon the premier men's fraternity.

GLOBAL SERVICE INITIATIVE

"GSI is important because it brings opportunities to so many people in the communities that we serve, and it gives DUs the opportunity to grow, change and learn in an environment outside their comfort zone. Personally, I can say that GSI has given me a new appreciation for all of the opportunity I have had in my life, and it has given me the chance to distribute some of that opportunity to kids who wouldn't have gotten it without some intervention."

PRESIDENTS ACADEMY

"Presidents Academy is the single most influential, meaningful and engaging program I have ever attended during my time in DU, and it is a huge part of why my chapter presidency has been so successful. Presidents Academy served as an opportunity to dream big and solidify my vision for my chapter. A leader can't lead without a well-constructed vision, and that is exactly what Presidents Academy provided to me."

REGIONAL LEADERSHIP ACADEMY

"I've been to three RLAs, and it was the first DU program I ever attended. My biggest takeaway from RLA is to that you have the ability to solve any problem. RLA covers so many topics and helps you amplify your processes. So, no matter what area you want to improve, you leave with a plan for how to do it."

"Delta Upsilon International Fraternity is one of the few places where collegiate men have the opportunity to engage in relevant and timely education that is crucial to their development, ultimately emerging as better men. I have given my time and treasure to this organization for over a decade because I continuously witness the impact that this fraternity has on its members, both in the numbers from the research outcomes, but most importantly, in the tangible quality of the membership experience. I truly believe that the world would be a better place if there were more Delta Upsilon men in it."

"My life has been immeasurably enriched by the lifelong relationships our brotherhood forged. I firmly believe that Delta Upsilon is an excellent opportunity for young men, and that is why we are happy to contribute to its ongoing success."

- Kim Cox, Illinois '76

THE LIFETIME GIVING WALL

Investing in young people is always a good practice. Our Fraternity is very fortunate to include brothers who have been continuously making that investment. Their giving, accumulated over time, has a significant and longstanding impact on Delta Upsilon and its ability to help young men succeed in life.

There are brothers who have gifted more than $1,000,000 during their lifetime, as well as brothers who have gifted $10,000 and counting. Below is a list of DU's Lifetime Giving Circles, celebrating and commemorating the accumulative impact of Delta Upsilon's most loyal and generous donors.

In addition to this publication, the DU Educational Foundation maintains a permanent Lifetime Donor Wall at the International Headquarters that recognizes these contributions so that all future generations are reminded that they stand on the shoulders of the great men who have gone before them.

DATA SHOWS DU BUILDS BETTER MEN

Delta Upsilon's mission is Building Better Men, and undergraduates and alumni from across North America have anecdotal stories about how their DU experience has given them important life and career skills. Now, through the Fraternity's Membership Outcomes Assessment, DU continues to gather statistical data to show the impact the Delta Upsilon membership experience has on college men.

In spring 2019, DU completed Year Four of the Membership Outcomes Assessment with our partners at Dyad Strategies, LLC (a research, educational assessment and strategic planning firm that specializes in the fraternity/sorority community). During this assessment, all DU undergraduates are asked to complete a survey specifically designed to measure personal development in areas including problem-solving, social justice, ethical decision making, belonging and more using the Fraternity's educational outcomes and Four Founding Principles as its guide.

Each year of the assessment has allowed the Fraternity to identify trends in member attitudes and behavior, as well as areas of success and needed growth at both the international and chapter levels. Now, after four years of assessment implementation, the Fraternity has a group of students it can track over the full four-year membership experience. This helps the Fraternity gain a clearer picture of just how DU membership impacts a student from the time he joins to when he graduates.

Over the next year, the Board of Directors and staff will dive deeper into the assessment data to further understand DU's impact on students, as well as how different variables, such as year in school, educational program attendance, chapter leadership positions and more affect a member's development. For now, the Fraternity wants to share the following takeaways from the 2019 Membership Outcomes Assessment. Chapters will be asked to complete the 2020 assessment in January and February.

HOW DU BUILDS BETTER MEN

Over four years, DU members show increases in:

This means that over a member's time in Delta Upsilon, he gains a stronger understanding of his values, beliefs and characteristics (self-authorship); builds critical thinking and problem-solving skills (need for cognition); and learns to understand and appreciate the view points and feelings of others (social perspective taking). In short, DU helps you better understand yourself, build critical thinking and problem-solving skills, and relate to others.

DU VS. PEER FRATERNITIES

DU data compared to four other fraternities that work with Dyad Strategies on member assessment*

DU has the lowest Solidarity scores among peers. This is positive in that it shows DUs care and support brothers but will hold them accountable when needed.

DU has the lowest Shared Social scores among peers. This is positive in that it shows members value the DU experience and brothers for more than just a social experience.

DU has the healthiest scores among peers when it comes to attitudes toward hazing. DUs show less tolerance and rationale for hazing.

DU has the strongest scores in Sexual Assault Attitudes. DUs have high rates of survivor support and low rates of victim blaming and minimizing sexual assault.

STAY ON THE DU QUARTERLY MAILING LIST

Delta Upsilon is constantly evaluating how to provide the best experience to our members in the most efficient way possible. To maximize the Fraternity's resources, changes are coming to the DU Quarterly.

Currently, all DU members for whom we have a current mailing address receive a print copy of the fall DU Quarterly. Other issues throughout the year are sent in print to undergraduates, current and recent DU Educational Foundation donors, international and local volunteers, past Board and staff members, and any alumnus who has requested a copy.

Starting next year, the fall issue will no longer be sent in print to all members. It will utilize a mailing list similar to the other issues. This will help Delta Upsilon save on printing/mailing costs and improve our environmental footprint. To continue to receive the DU Quarterly in print, you can request to be added to the mailing list or make a donation to the DU Educational Foundation.

All members will continue to receive an electronic version of each issue of the DU Quarterly via email. Make sure your email is up-to-date by completing the Member Bio Card at www.deltatau.org/bio-card

Make a donation to the DU Educational Foundation to remain on the DU Quarterly print mailing list at www.deltatau.org/give.

Request to receive print copies of the DU Quarterly by filling out the form at www.deltatau.org/duquarterly-request.
