Re: Letter of Reference

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is offered as a letter of recommendation for Pauly Jail Building Company (PJBC). Klein McCarthy Architects is an architectural firm specializing in the planning and design of justice facilities with over 200 justice projects in our portfolio. I have personally had the pleasure of working with PJBC for over 25 years, on almost 30 projects in 5 different states throughout my career.

Representatives of PJBC have always treated our design team and client team with the utmost respect and professionalism in all business situations. They have assisted our team with pre-construction budgeting, product details and unique design detailing. During bidding they have always been forthcoming with all document clarifications so that all firms were bidding the same quantity and quality. During construction their project management and on-site installers have been very responsive in providing not only shop drawings punctually but delivered the project on schedule. They are one of the few firms who still believe in holding shop drawing coordination meetings to be sure that all of their products are fully coordinated to avoid change orders and construction delays.

We have appreciated Pauly Jail Building Company bidding and performing on our projects no matter the size, and have always felt they valued each and every one of them.

If you should have any questions about Pauly Jail and their work, please feel free to contact me at the number listed above.

Sincerely,
