Reading to children is the best way to foster a love of books and to develop skills that will help them learn to read.

Read 1,000 books together, earn fun prizes and help your child get ready for kindergarten.

Instructions:

1. Visit the children's department to register for the program and help your child select books to start your journey towards reading 1,000 Books Before Kindergarten.

2. Track your reading: Fill in a shape on your log for each book that you read together.

3. Every book counts: Already read it? It counts! Read it in storytime at the library or at preschool? It counts! If your child listens to the whole book, you can count it on the log.

4. Level Milestones: Once you read 100 books, come into the library for a prize. For each 100 books read, your child will earn a milestone prize, until you reach 1,000 books together. Prizes include stickers and other incentives.

5. Finish your 1,000th book: Congratulations! Come to the library for your final prize, a certificate of completion and an invitation to the 1000 Books Ceremony.

Level 100

Literacy Tip:

Literacy Tip:

Songs are a wonderful way to learn about language. Singing slows down language so children can hear different sounds that make up words. Don't worry if you are not a good singer. Your child will love singing with you.

It's hard to believe that children begin to develop writing skills as young as age two! Learning forms and shapes of letters are connected to learning how to read. Beginning writers learn the purpose of writing by watching adults.

Literacy Tip:

Parents have long known that children learn best through play. The great news is science is backing you up! Children learn a lot about language through play. Play helps children understand that spoken and written words can stand for real objects and experiences. Give your child plenty of playtime and set aside time each day to play with him or her.
