Learn a New Skill Online, On Your Time JCPL Adds Lynda.com to Services Offered to Patrons

Franklin, Ind. – Johnson County Public Library is excited to offer our patrons access to the Lynda.com instructional video library!

Cardholders living in Johnson County can access thousands of online courses in Microsoft Office, Photoshop, web design, business, marketing and much more at no cost.

Lynda.com is an easy and effective way to grow your skills in areas like:

- Graphic Design
- Computer Programming
- Photography
- Video

Whether you're starting from scratch, need a refresher, or just a quick how-to on a specific function, you'll find your answers for popular software including:

- Microsoft Office (including Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Access and Outlook)
- Adobe Creative Suite (including Photoshop, Illustrator and InDesign)
- Google Apps
- iMovie
- Final Cut Pro

All you need to start learning with Lynda.com is your library card number and PIN (your default PIN is the last four digits of your card number.) Visit pageafterpage.org/Lynda to log in, create your Lynda.com account with your name and email address then you're ready to start developing your skills with over 130,000 professionally produced video lessons.

Don't have a library card? Fill out our online form and have your card mailed to you. Lynda.com is only accessible to patrons living in the Johnson County Public Library district.
