

DELTA UPSILON

INTERNATIONAL FRATERNITY

Values-Based Selection Criteria

Selecting men who uphold or who already have an appreciation for our values will lead to a strong Delta Upsilon in the future. While our Four Founding Principles are ideals and hard to measure at times, within each there exists tangible actions identifying if a potential associate member espouses the Four Founding Principles of the Fraternity.

Academic Minimum

Additionally, a standard for academic success should be followed. The Fraternity supports a minimum grade point average requirement set for initiation at 2.5. In order to promote success, each chapter should evaluate the all-men's and all-fraternity grade point average on its campus and elect into membership the men who are above both.

A Final Note

Not every potential associate member will possess each of these qualities. These actions and experiences help to define how the Four Founding Principles are viewed in everyday life. A potential new member should be evaluated against the Four Founding Principles before being offered a bid to join Delta Upsilon.
