Re: Letter of Recommendation

Gentlemen:

It is a pleasure to write a letter of recommendation for Pauly Jail Building Co., friends with whom we have enjoyed business relationships for over twenty-five years.

Our practice has specialized in Criminal Justice architecture since 1985, today having participated in the planning of facilities across the nation, we have watched Pauly Jail evolve into one of the very finest Detention Contractors in the nation, with demonstrated expertise in virtually every aspect of equipment design and installation.

Pauly Jail has been our primary equipment resource for the majority of our facilities in many states across the Midwest as well as in Texas and on the east coast. Their estimating, project management, business integrity and installation capabilities are exceptional and have been consistently reflected in superb performances on our firm's detention projects. On the rare instances where modifications to their on-site work have been necessary, their attitude has placed our Client's needs first without complaint or delay, the final hallmark of a truly exceptional company in whom we have come to have complete trust.

We look forward to many more projects with Pauly Jail and recommend them without reservation to officials and architectural colleagues with participation in upcoming Criminal Justice projects.

Sincerely,

Goldberg, Sullivan & McCreery Inc.
