BIOGRAPHY

State Sen. Greg Goode has represented Hoosiers in Senate District 38 since 2023. The district includes all of Clay and Vigo counties and a portion of Sullivan County.

Goode serves as the ranking member of the Senate Committee on Education and Career Development and as a member of the Senate committees on Appropriations, Elections, Family and Children Services, and the School Funding Subcommittee.

Professionally, he serves as the state director for U.S. Sen. Todd Young and previously served as the executive director of government relations and university communication for Indiana State University.

Goode has also chaired the Wabash River Regional Development Authority (WRRDA) and has received the ISU President's Medallion, ISU Jones Award, Indiana Principal Leadership Award for Service, and Terre Haute Chamber of Commerce Building Community Award for his work on the WRRDA.

He and his wife, Leslie, live in Terre Haute, and have one son.
