Birthday at the Ballpark

Nothings says summer like a baseball game, and a group of clients and staff from Tangram recently had the opportunity to enjoy a memorable night at the park — thanks to two very generous donors. Robert and Mary Bingham, the parents of a client named Bobby, wanted to do something special for their son and his peers and staff at Tangram. Bobby likes going to Indians baseball games and the Bingham's thought that would be a great activity for everyone to do together.

At first, Robert tried to get tickets for the Fourth of July game. But when those weren't available, he ended up with tickets for a game on July 30 — which just so happens to be Bobby's birthday! Bobby was able to celebrate in style, because these were tickets for box seats in one of the luxurious suites at Victory Field.

On game day, Bobby and five other clients, along with four Tangram employees, settled into their suite for a night of fun. They enjoyed complimentary food and beverages, as well as the option of sitting either outside or inside the air-conditioned suite during the game. The package even included a shout-out to Tangram on the big screen! For some, it was their first Indians game, and it didn't disappoint — the team came out on top against their opponents, 3-2. But the night was especially meaningful for Bobby, as he was able to ring in his 44th birthday at one of his favorite places.

We're so glad we had the chance to join Bobby in his birthday celebrations and enjoy a game with a great group of clients! Thank you, Robert and Mary, for making this special night possible — it's donors like you who help us create extraordinary memories for the people we serve.
