

The Power of Us.

Leadership
JOHNSON COUNTY
Annual Report 2015

Dear Johnson County Friends:

Leadership characteristics are fairly common across industries, professions and politics. We all want a leader who is trustworthy and honest, who has a vision for the future and who can get things done. Community leadership differs somewhat, in that its success isn't dependent on a single person, but on the collective talents, passions and shared vision of a wide variety of individuals and corporations.

The power of community leadership is that the influence comes from the people. The power of you. The power of me. The Power of Us. And together, we are lighting up Johnson County with creative problem solving, collaboration and hard work.

For over 20 years, Leadership Johnson County has been working to enhance leadership skills and community problem solving through our signature program. This nine-month program focuses on developing personal leadership skills and enhancing awareness of county issues. We are proud of our graduates and the work they continue to do throughout Johnson County and beyond.

This year, as we met with stakeholders in the community, we asked the question – what else? What else can LJC do to propel our community forward? What other programs, services and training can we provide to our community? The answers are written over the pages of this annual report. Leadership Johnson County extended our reach last year, and we will continue to do so through the power of our community.

What powers our community? The people. You + me. The Power of Us. Together we are creating a brighter future for Johnson County. We hope you will join us.

Board Governance

Nonprofits are the heart of the community, bridging the gaps for those citizens in the most need. This three-day workshop focuses on how to become the best board member for your organization: identifying individual strengths, best practices for finance and fundraising, legal responsibilities, strategic planning and more. Facilitated by Carolyn Goerner, Clinical Professor of Management, Kelley School of Business, this workshop is equally beneficial to those looking to volunteer for a nonprofit, executive directors and volunteers who have been investing in nonprofits for years.

Leading Change

A three-day series designed for individuals in a position to effect organizational or personal change with a major change initiative. Participants examine the impact of change, develop strategies for balancing change and leave with goals to improve resiliency to change. Co-facilitated by Professor Emeritus Bonnie Pribush and Dr. Rick Ruegg, the workshop also includes professional and peer feedback on personal and organizational change plans.

Engagement in Public Service

For those interested in exploring local politics, this one-day seminar outlines the process of becoming civically engaged. Participants learn about opportunities for public service, how to file and run for office, information on creating a campaign plan, campaign finance and budgeting, how to fundraise for a campaign and creating a media plan. Additionally, this seminar focuses on public speaking and gives participants an opportunity to practice this imperative skill.

The Power of Innovation Leadership Symposium

One-day leadership symposium dedicated to innovation and creative problem solving. Leaders who facilitate and enhance creative thinking and innovation in their workplace can create impactful and effective organizational change.

Myers-Briggs Type Indicator Training

Learn how to better understand yourself and those around you with a three-hour training using the world's most widely and universally used tool for understanding normal, healthy personality differences among people. Facilitated by LJC Executive Director, Tandy Shuck, this workshop helps participants enhance understanding of self, motivations, natural strengths and potential areas of growth. This workshop provides a great team-building exercise and can be taught at your worksite or at Franklin College.

LJC Community Projects – Class of 2015

A key component to the LJC experience is the completion of a community project. The class is broken into groups who work together to address current or recurring problems within Johnson County. Projects vary from year to year, but the goal of engaging in creative problem solving through collaboration remains the same.

Geo Johnson County

Geocaching is a real-world, outdoor treasure hunting game using GPS-enabled devices, such as a smartphone. Participants navigate to a set of GPS coordinates from www.geocaching.com and attempt to find the geocache hidden at that location. Geo Johnson County worked throughout Johnson County to create and place 10 caches at various points of interest. Inside each cache visitors will find a historical fact, more information, or some other interesting tidbit about the place. This team created a fun, family-friendly project to help advertise and educate residents and visitors about the rich history of Johnson County.

Team HOPE

Team HOPE worked to help address the barriers that exist in mentor recruitment and to help recruit high quality, committed volunteers to serve as mentors at local agencies. To help facilitate this need, the project team created a video outlining several mentor/mentee relationships and the benefits for both. The video is available to mentoring organizations in Central Indiana as they work to increase the number of mentors available for people in need. Visit the Team HOPE Facebook page at www.facebook.com/Mentors4hope to view the video and learn more about mentoring in Johnson County.

Franklin Hunger Heroes

Franklin Hunger Heroes raised money and awareness for youth who experience hunger. Together with Gleaners Food Bank of Indiana and Franklin Community School Corporation, Franklin Hunger Heroes set out to create a pilot program to feed kids through the longer school breaks, specifically fall and spring break. Through a social media platform that included Facebook and Twitter, and several articles in the local newspaper, the team raised over $8,000 to help fund 250 food boxes for Franklin Community School students during spring break. The remaining money will be used to make 250 additional boxes for fall break. Gleaners is now taking the Franklin Hunger Heroes model into other communities around Indiana. To find out more about upcoming fundraisers or to get involved with Franklin Hunger Heroes, like them at www.facebook.com/franklinhungerhero.

Diane Black Servant Leader Award – Don Cummings

Leadership Johnson County awarded the 2015 Diane Black Servant Leader Award to Endress+Hauser, Inc. employee and LJC Class of 2009 graduate, Don Cummings.

The Diane Black Servant Leader Award is given to a person who exemplifies servant leadership in our community. This year's recipient deserves this recognition for his continued commitment to projects that enhance the quality of life and help economic development in Greenwood and Johnson County.

Don personifies the definition of community leader, not only in his vision but with his follow-through. He has spent countless hours volunteering and leading causes that have enabled people to enjoy public spaces and has promoted Johnson County as a great place to live, work and play.

He has led the charge for an extraordinary trails system in Greenwood. He not only facilitated the planning, but worked tirelessly to raise funds for trail projects. He also has spearheaded efforts to revitalize

Greenwood's historic downtown area.

Mostly, though, Don represents the ideal Leadership Johnson County graduate. He continues to voluntarily operate the JourneyJohnsonCounty.org website, a project developed during his LJC class. He is working with Aspire Johnson County and local government leaders to one day bring a Destination Marketing Organization to Johnson County and take his tourism website and social media platforms to the next level.

Don remains active in LJC by serving as a member of the LJC Advisory Council. He is also a current member of the Johnson County Community Foundation Board.

The Diane Black Servant Leader Award was created in honor of Diane Black, a person who exemplifies servant leadership. Diane was a member of the first graduating class of Leadership Johnson County in 1995. She went on to serve the organization as program coordinator for five years and continues to serve Johnson County through her involvement in various organizations.

Leadership Johnson County Scholarships

Leadership Johnson County strives to be a community leadership program open to all people in the community. It is always the goal that cost will not prohibit anyone who wants to participate in the signature nine-month program from applying.

Leadership Johnson County worked together with alumni, sponsors and donors and in 2015 successfully endowed the Catherine Denney Memorial Scholarship. Catherine Denney, a participant in the LJC Class of 1996, passed away unexpectedly shortly after graduation from the program.

Catherine was a retired teacher and leader in the Edinburgh community. The following year, the LJC Alumni Association voted to rename the LJC scholarship the Catherine Denney Memorial Scholarship, in her honor.

This scholarship fund is housed at the Johnson County Community Foundation and pays partial scholarships to several participants in the signature program each year. Funds from the annual Get Bowled Over bowling event, along with other LJC fundraisers and matching scholarship donor, J.J.B. Hilliard/W.L. Lyons, enabled us to reach our goal of endowment in 2015. Thank you to all those who have participated or will participate in this worthy cause.

Additionally, last year marked the first time that LJC awarded a full-tuition scholarship to the program. This was possible due to the generosity of Byron Bayne's wife, Linda, who set up a scholarship with LJC's signature program. Byron (Bud) was a graduate of the LJC Class of 2001. Bud dedicated his professional career to the success of his family business for over 41 years, where he served as the President and CEO until his death. Leadership Johnson County is honored to award this scholarship in Bud's memory as we hope to create lifelong learning through our program.

Leadership Johnson County enjoyed a wonderful evening with 380 leaders in our community. Together we toured Italy from the comfort of Johnson County. Guests enjoyed fine cuisine and wine to complement each dish, and a silent and live auction that raised funds to further our mission.

The Wine Tasting has become a premier event in Johnson County over the past 11 years. We hope you will plan to join us at this year's event on March 12, 2016, where we will tour France at the Indiana National Guard, Johnson County Armory. Special thanks to our title sponsor, Old National Bank.
