Community Project Flashback

Ever wonder if your community project made a lasting impact? For the Class of 2001, Great Old Barns of Johnson County, the answer is yes!

The Indiana Barn Foundation is a new group started with the goal of preserving and identifying Farm style barns in the state of Indiana. The LJC project group had identified 486 barns that qualified for the project. The Indiana Barn Foundation was thrilled to have a copy of the CD showcasing these treasures. Nearly 20 years later, still making an impact!

What is your favorite LJC moment or lesson to date – I truly enjoyed the agriculture day. I am newer to Johnson County and it was neat to get out in the community and learn a little more about local farms!

Last book you read: Do you recommend—Shoe Dog by Nike founder Phil Knight. Great book about entrepreneurship, perseverance and overcoming obstacles; I would highly recommend!

Hobbies and interests outside of work: I enjoy being active in any way I can, but I truly love sports and hanging out with my family. Anytime I can combine those two things I am certainly at my happiest.

What is your perfect pizza? Any take on a “meat lovers” pizza... I am a pizza-holic!

Carissa Bratcher

Human Resources Specialist at Franklin Community Schools

Family – Husband: Tony, Lieutenant at Sugar Creek Twp. Fire Department; Son: Noah (age 6)

Where do you live – Greenwood, IN

What is your favorite LJC moment or lesson to date – I enjoyed the civil civic discourse activity that Bonnie led and the discussions with my classmates that resulted.

What or who inspires you – My son is one of my biggest inspirations. He’s taught me a lot about life through our journey. Noah wasn’t dealt the easiest hand early in his life, but he’s not let it stop his genuine love and compassion for people, and I think that’s admirable.

Tell me about a project or accomplishment that you consider to be the most significant in your career. – I am currently working on a project at FCS under the direction of Jeff Mercer that focuses on ensuring FCS is an employer of choice. Being able to give back to our employees and make FCS even better has always been one of my priorities, and I feel fortunate to be able to make that a reality and learn from one of best while doing it.

Favorite quote – “I’m going to make everything around me beautiful – that will be my life.” – Elsie de Wolfe

What is your favorite LJC moment or lesson to date—Circular Introductions are so enjoyable because we get a personal moment with so many people we may only see on occasion.

What is innovative in your field —Innovation in my field brings us some of the latest classroom technology, allowing students and faculty to collaborate in ways no generation before has.

Number one skill you practice that makes you successful—Practicing Empathy. People don’t call you when everything is going great, and you have to be prepared to make any issue seem manageable.

Favorite Restaurant—Ralston’s on Mass Ave, Indianapolis is a favorite restaurant of mine. Creative menu (try the peach duck wrap!), great beer selection, and an inviting patio!

Family—Mom, Dad, 3 brothers (Tony, Andy, Spencer), sister (Abbie), niece Evie, and a puppy (Ernie)

Where do you live—Franklin

What is your favorite LJC moment or lesson to date—My favorite thing so far has been Orientation weekend and having the opportunity to get to know so many neat people in Johnson County!

What or who inspires you—I LOVE to listen to Dr. Jill Bolte-Taylor speak about the brain. She is a neuroanatomist who had a stroke at the age of 37 (as she was studying at Harvard) causing the left side of her brain to shut down. She studied herself re-learning to speak, read, walk, and write while she learned about the neuroplasticity of the brain. Her work on overcoming trauma is fascinating. She now lives in Bloomington, Indiana. Her TedTalk is one of the top five most viewed of all time and she has a newer one called “The Neuroanatomical Transformation of the Teenage Brain” that is very interesting. Her book My Stroke of Insight is a New York Times bestseller. As a school counselor, understanding how our brains work for us is one of the greatest gifts we can give our students.

Last book you read. Do you recommend—Present over Perfect by Shauna Niequist. Highly recommend!

Favorite restaurant—A family favorite is Tre Bicchieri in Columbus. They have the best make-your-own pasta dishes!

John Venter

School Administrator

Family Married to Jill with three children, Sam, Sophie, and Savannah

Where do you live? Whiteland

What is your favorite LJC moment or lesson to date? Myers-Briggs discussion

Number one skill you practice that makes you successful Accountability. When I say I will do something, I do it. I also do not take on commitments that I either do not understand or cannot fulfill.

Last book you read. Do you recommend Outliers by Malcolm Gladwell. Love the perspective on what makes people successful!

Hobbies and interests outside of work I’m a pretty good tennis player for my age. I’ve developed a lot of friendships and met some great people over the years due to the sport.

Matt Koehling

Financial Advisor

Family - Wife- Abby, Son- Bennett

Where do you live- Greenwood/Center Grove

What is your favorite LJC moment or lesson to date- I really enjoyed the ball tossing game to help us remember names of all of our classmates.

Hobbies and interests outside of work—I enjoy DIY projects and small woodworking projects around the house. I am also very good at taking things apart, fixing them, and putting them back together. YouTube is a wonderful resource.

Something on your bucket list—I have always wanted to sky dive and jump out of a helicopter at the top of a mountain, but as I get older these seem less and less appealing. Plus I think my wife would kill me. :)

If you could appear on one game show, what would you choose and why— Price is right- I grew up on that show and have always wanted to be a contestant. COME ON DOWN!
