Celebrate Native American Heritage Month at JCPL

Franklin, Ind. – Learn about Native American Heritage during the month of November. Visit the library and check out these creative programs.

Finger Weaving at the White River Branch Nov. 9

Finger weaving is a Native American art form used mostly to create belts, sashes and straps. Learn the technique and get started on your own project.

Native American Stories with Teresa Webb at the Franklin Branch Nov. 13

Storyteller Teresa Webb will captivate listeners with tales of Native American culture using song, drum and flute. Join us in celebrating Native American Heritage Month with this presentation from the heart and spirit of indigenous people.

Dream Catchers at the Franklin Branch Nov. 14

Celebrate Native American Heritage month by making a beautiful dream catcher! We'll also learn a little about the history and lore of the dream catcher. All supplies will be provided.

Book and Movie Discussion: "The Lone Ranger and Tonto Fistfight in Heaven" at the Clark Pleasant Branch Nov. 16

Celebrate Native American History Month by reading Sherman Alexie's short story collection, "The Lone Ranger and Tonto Fistfight in Heaven." We'll watch "Smoke Signals," an adaptation of one the short stories, and discuss the book.

Family Storytime: Stories by Native American Authors at the Trafalgar Branch Nov. 22

Commemorate Native American History Month and get in the spirit of Thanksgiving while joining us for a special storytime. We'll read stories by a few very talented Native American authors and complete a family craft as well!
