Explore Winter at Johnson County Public Library

New Winter Program Encourages Engaged Learning

FRANKLIN, Ind. – How do you Explore Winter? There's lots of different ways! Read a new genre, try a new recipe, attend library programs, visit a StoryWalk or watch a movie based on a book. Join us Jan. 7-Feb. 28.

Explore Winter, much like Explore Summer, invites all ages to join us for this program designed to discover new books, authors, resources and activities available at the library.

Register

Register at any JCPL Branch or online at pageafterpage.org/explore-winter beginning Jan. 7. Those who participated in our Explore Summer program can sign into their Beanstack account, register to Explore Winter and start logging activities.

After registering for Explore Winter, participants will receive a coupon for one free book at a Friends Used Book Sale, choice of a JCPL magnet or snowman slime, activity log to track your progress and a sticker for your activity log.

How Does It Work?

Earn badges and fun prizes by completing activities. Each badge has several different activities listed.

For each badge that you complete, you'll be entered to win an Explore Winter Prize Pack. After completing three badges, participants may visit the library to pick up a prize. All program completers will also be entered to win a family membership to a museum or zoo.

Learn more at pageafterpage.org/explore-winter or at any JCPL Branch. For more information, please contact Monica Harvey at 317-738-2957 or mharvey@jcplin.org.
